The image shows a crossword puzzle grid. In the top-left corner, there is a photograph of several flowers, likely columbines, with pink and purple petals. The grid is composed of white squares for letters and black squares for empty space. Small black arrows are placed in the corners of the starting squares for each word, indicating the direction of the word: horizontal words start with a right-pointing arrow, and vertical words start with a downward-pointing arrow. The grid is 15 columns wide and 15 rows high.
