The image shows a crossword puzzle grid. The top-left corner features a photograph of three pieces of sushi, likely California rolls, with a pinkish-red outer coating and visible fillings of white rice, green cucumber, and orange salmon. The grid is 12 columns wide and 12 rows high. Starting arrows are placed in various cells to indicate the beginning of words. Some arrows point down, some point right, and some point both down and right. The grid is otherwise empty, with no letters or numbers filled in.
