The image shows a crossword puzzle grid. On the left side, there is a portrait of a man with dark hair, wearing a blue patterned jacket. The grid is 15 columns wide and 15 rows high. The starting points for words are indicated by small black symbols: a downward arrow (↓) for vertical words and a rightward arrow (→) for horizontal words. Some cells contain a small black dot (•) to indicate that a letter is not present in that cell. The grid is otherwise empty, ready for a player to fill in the words.
