

"

"

The image shows a crossword puzzle grid. The top-left corner features a photograph of purple flowers with a butterfly. The grid is composed of 12 columns and 12 rows. Arrows indicate the starting and ending points for words. The starting arrows are located at the beginning of words, and the ending arrows are located at the end of words. The grid is partially filled with words, but the text is not legible.

"

"

